

Offer – Residency position in Companion Animal Surgery

Academic year 2024-2025

THE TRAINING COURSE

This residency offers a comprehensive 3-year minimum training program approved by the European College of Veterinary Surgery - Small Animals (ECVS) and starting August 1, 2024. Under the guidance of 3 specialists in surgery, this program offers a rich and diverse learning environment. As a resident, you will assume primary responsibility for companion animal surgical cases, gaining hands-on experience and expertise. Active involvement in clinical teaching to students, specialized and rotating interns is a key component of this role, fostering a collaborative and educational atmosphere.

VETERINARY UNIVERSITY CLINIC

The Veterinary University Clinic (CVU) at the University of Liège is a renowned institution for veterinary care, education, and research. With specialists from various disciplines, we offer advanced diagnostic and therapeutic services for animals and provide a training ground for future veterinarians and specialists.

SKILLS

The candidate should hold a DVM or equivalent degree from an accredited veterinary school and a rotating internship in companion animals. Proficiency in the French language is essential (level B2). The candidate should possess exceptional interpersonal skills to thrive in our collaborative environment and should demonstrate adaptability and positive demeanour in working with diverse personalities, ensuring a harmonious working relationship with colleagues.

Would you like to join us?

Your applications should include a curriculum vitae, a covering letter and 3 letters of reference. All applicants are encouraged to schedule a visit to the clinic. Selected candidates will be contacted for an interview in April. Applications (including letters of reference) should be e-mailed to Nadine Fis (nadine.fis@uliege.be) by March 31, 2024.
